

SAFE & CARING SCHOOLS

Kognito

Safe & Caring Schools for caregivers is a scalable community approach to upstream violence prevention and includes a program for caregivers.

Learners reflect on their role in fostering safe & caring schools, recognize signs a student may be in distress, understand potential resources for support, and engage in a caring conversation in a virtual practice environment.

The program is designed to build and reinforce a culture of trust and open communication, empowering the full community to share concerns and work together to connect students to appropriate support.
